Department of Journalism & Mass Communication organised an Industry Visit Program to Kathakaar International Story Teller's Festival on Friday, October 11th 2019 at Sunder Nursery, National Heritage Park New Delhi.

The program was hosted by 'Ghumakkad Narayan', The Travelling Literature Festival of India. The 12th edition of India's first and only international storytelling festival showcased the best forms of storytelling from United Kingdom, Australia, Poland and India. This year actor Manoj Bajpayee and filmmaker Imtiaz Ali turned into storytellers for the audience along with festival patron singer-songwriter-composer Mohit Chauhan.

The festival will have many firsts, Buddhist chanting by Grammy awardee monks from Sherbaling. Renowned harpist and storyteller Emilia Raiter from Poland.

Aboriginal Elder Uncle Larry Walsh will be accompanied by well known didgeridoo player Ron Murray to share Australian stories from the Dreamtime traditions. Danish Husain was back with his multilingual storytelling project – Qissebazi with a set of new Haryanvi folktales performed by Rashmi Mann & Ruchita Tahiliani. Danish himself performed in Hindustani.

Sangeet Natak Awardee Tholpavakoothu, the Kerala Shadow puppeteers will perform Ramayan, while Swedish-British artist will perform Kali and tales from the Mahabharat. In addition there would be Vergine Gulbenkian, Jerzy Szufa, Amrita Tripathi and our very own master storyteller Shaguna Gahilote. The festival is organized by NGOs Nivesh and HHACH and conceptualized by sisters Rachna Gahilote Bisht, Prarthana and Shaguna Gahilote
