She further expressed her college journey and suggested all the do's and don'ts to the students. She discussed about her first year which was full of excitement and her internship in second year which she did at Parle Agro and she cheerfully informed that she got a good stipend as well. She informed them how to strongly build one's resume impressive for the selection at various companies. Her instruction to first year students was to do every bit at their best which would prove to be fruitful later.

She further emphasised on continuous improvement rather than expecting miraculous results at teenage. Doing online courses, learning new things, may it be from academics or beyond were the few tips that she gave to the students. She also gave some on corporate affairs and what all personality traits are needed. At the end she was feeling very nostalgic and thanked JIMS and faculty members again.
