Report on the Role Play

The Department of Commerce at JIMS Engineering Management Technical Campus, Greater Noida, organized an insightful Role Play event titled "Tribute to Birsa Munda" on 9th April 2025. The event was aimed at recognizing and celebrating the cultural richness, struggles, and contributions of India's tribal communities, with a special homage to Birsa Munda, a revered tribal freedom fighter and reformist.

Students enthusiastically participated by enacting various role plays depicting the lives, traditions, and challenges faced by tribal communities across India. These performances highlighted key aspects such as tribal resistance movements, unique customs, exploitation by colonial powers, and the fight to preserve indigenous identity.

The portrayal of Birsa Munda's leadership in mobilizing the tribal population against British rule stood out as a central theme. Performers brought to life the spirit of unity and resilience among tribal communities, sparking thoughtful reflection among the audience.

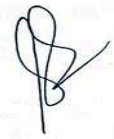

The event witnessed an engaging atmosphere, with faculty and students from different departments in attendance. The efforts of the students were appreciated for their creativity, sensitivity, and powerful storytelling. Through this event, the Department succeeded in fostering awareness and respect for tribal history and culture, while also promoting student involvement in social and cultural discussions.
